

Below is the e-mail I sent to Sinclair Broadcast Group, which voices my opinion. Thank you.

Dear Messrs. Smith and Butler,

I most respectfully take exception to the mandate that all of your affiliates must air STOLEN HONOR: WOUNDS THAT NEVER HEAL two weeks before the November 2nd presidential elections. This egregious and inappropriate act of political activism is an overt attempt to manipulate the outcome of the upcoming election. Further, this mandate is an affront to the McCain-Feingold campaign finance law and flies in the face of the accepted policy of equal air time.

As citizens and as a corporation, it is within your rights to make financial contributions to whomever you choose and - according to published reports - it is clear that nearly all of your money goes to Republican candidates and causes.

Fair enough.

But it is foul play to foist propaganda on the public airwaves and attempt to serve it up as news.

Rest assured that this viewers eyes will never rest on Sinclair O&O's again.

Sincerely,

David Wally
